READING 1 (Items 1 – 8)

[8 marks]

Read the text. Are the statements \underline{True} or \underline{False} ? For each item, shade in the bubble (\bigcirc) under the correct option.

Back in 1920, a tourist resort was set up on the shore of Lake Epecuen in the south of Argentina. It had hotels with accommodation for 25,000 visitors, and a railway connection to the capital city, Buenos Aires. But its biggest attraction was the lake itself, whose salty waters were famous for their medical powers. For centuries, people had gone there to bathe in its waters, hoping for a cure from various aches and pains.

For many years, Epecuen was a highly successful tourist hotspot. But then, in November 1985, disaster struck. Heavy rain caused the earthen dam protecting the village to burst. The whole area was flooded with 10 metres of water, and 1,500 people were forced to leave their homes. Most of them moved to Carhua, another village on the shores of the lake, and set up a new tourist resort there.

For years, Epecuen was completely covered by water. But then something amazing happened. In the 2000s, there was a series of unusually hot, dry summers, and the level of the lake water gradually went down. By 2009, the streets and buildings of the ruined resort could be seen again, covered in white salt, but looking like a Hollywood film-set from a disaster movie. Since then, the place has attracted more and more tourists, keen to see the strange ruins of the abandoned 'ghost town'.

| | Statements | True | False |
|----|--|------|-------|
| 1. | Sick people went to Epecuen for its hot springs. | | |
| 2. | They used to travel there by train. | | |
| 3. | The resort was successful for more than sixty years. | | |
| 4. | It was destroyed by an earthquake. | | |
| 5. | More than a thousand people died in the disaster. | | |
| 6. | After 2000, the weather became cooller. | | |
| 7. | In 2009, tourists started going to Epecuen again. | | |
| 8. | The government has now re-built the resort. | | |

READING 2 (Items 9 – 14)

[12 marks]

Read the text. Then complete the task.

It was Thursday afternoon and I had gone to the bank as usual to withdraw some money, so that I could do my shopping. I was waiting patiently in the queue when suddenly two men with masks pulled over their heads, rushed in through the door and began shooting and waving guns in the air.

One of them shouted: "This is a robbery! Just do what we say, and you won't get hurt!" The other robber ordered us to lie face down on the floor. I was so scared that at first I even couldn't move. But a woman helped me down to the ground where all the customers were gathered.

I kept expecting to hear the sound of a police car coming to the rescue, but there was only silence. The cashiers remained very calm. I suppose they are trained to deal with such a situation. They put the contents of their cashboxes into a bag that the robbers had pushed over the counter to them.

The two masked men grabbed the bag, and just as suddenly as they had entered, they left the building. I could see through the window as they jumped into a white car which was waiting by the main entrance. Minutes later, the police arrived. Some of them immediately drove around the area to see if they could catch the robbers. Others stayed in the bank, and tried to calm us down, so that they could interview us and get whatever information they could. Nobody was allowed to leave.

After an hour, a police officer spoke to me. I was still a bit shaken, but was able to tell him about what I had seen. He was especially interested in my description of the robbers' car. After that, I went straight home. I didn't feel like going to the supermarket any more — and, anyway, I didn't have any money! That night, I carefully locked all my doors and windows before going to bed.

READING 2 (cont'd)

For each item, write a short answer (not more than FOUR WORDS).

- 9. What (exactly) was the writer doing when the robbers arrived?
- 10. How many robbers came into the bank?
- 11. What did they force the customers to do?
- 12. How did the bank staff react?

- 13. What useful information did the writer give to the police?
- 14. After she had been interviewed, where did she go?

Diploma, English 'Elective', Sem. 1, 2013/14, 2nd Session: Marking Guide

WRITING (GENERAL NOTES)

- The wording of the descriptors in the relevant Rating Scale should form the basis of all decisions (and discussions) on the marks to be awarded.
- There may well be different individual ways of approaching a task or interpreting a picture (or set of pictures), but a basic requirement for all answers is that they are relevant.
- If answers are clearly not relevant and the student has clearly not attempted the task that was set, no marks should be awarded.
- However, if a student has genuinely attempted the task, but their answer is only partly relevant, then a reduced mark (not zero) should be awarded.

| _ | WRITING 1 (10 mks) |

| 10 | Impact on intended reader is very positive. Writing clearly succeeds in achieving its purpose. Uses language which is appropriate to the reader and context. A fair range of structures and vocabulary, with a good level of accuracy. |
| 8 | - Impact on intended reader is fairly positive. - Writing has reasonable success in achieving its purpose. - There are clear attempts to use language appropriate to the reader and context. - Grammar and vocabulary are reasonably correct, though limited in range. |
| 6 | - Impact on intended reader is mixed. - Writing has partially achieved its main purpose, but: - Some of the language used is inappropriate to the reader and context. - There is a noticeable lack of accuracy in the use of grammar and vocabulary. |
| 4 | - Impact on intended reader is rather negative . - Writing only has very limited success in achieving its purpose. - There is little evidence of any attempt to use appropriate language. - Grammar/Vocabulary contain frequent serious errors. |
| 2 | - Impact on intended reader is very negative . - Writing clearly fails to achieve its intended purpose. - There is little evidence of any attempt to use appropriate language. - The language used is extremely limited and/or seriously distorted. |
| 0 | No attempt at the task: EITHER Irrelevant. (Completely unrelated to the task/ instructions) OR Hardly any writing at all, or not written in English. OR Complete nonsense. |

Note 1: The task is to write an e-mail, so students must include a greeting at the start and a closing at the end. If they do not, they will lose marks. PROCEDURE: Each marker marks the content of the e-mail according to the Rating Scale — then, if either the greeting or the closing are missing, deduct two marks from the content-score.

Note 2: No marks should be awarded or deducted for the address. Any addresses should be ignored.
